DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 9 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claim 2.

When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k). The intended use limitation in claim 9 does not differentiate it from the claimed feature of claim 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-2, 6, 8-10 and 15-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Konzal (5,324,249).

Konzal discloses an apparatus for curling thermoplastic container, including the lip portion, comprising a heater (Fig. 13, 162) having a housing (164, 144) connected to an opening nozzle (170), an air source connected with the heat source to heat the air to a predetermined temperature before blowing to the thermoplastic plastic material for curling it (col. 8, lines 23-33) and for further curling the lip portion (col. 6, lines 11-25).

In regard to claims 2, 6, 8-10, the heat assembly is capable of being removed from the initial position by a pneumatic piston and cylinder assembly (332; col. 13, lines 16-49).

Art Unit: 1722

In regard to claims 15-16, the heating apparatus is capable of heating the material between the range of 550F to 600F in order to deform and curl the blank sheet into a cup with a curling rim without melting the material during the process.

4. Claims 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mueller (4,566,923).

Muller disclose an apparatus for forming container, comprising a heater (24, 36) having a housing and a nozzle for distributing hot air stream to the forming container (Figs. 4 & 7-8). It is inherent that the apparatus must include an air source connected to the heater in order to provide the hot air stream against the lip portion of the container (col. 6, lines 52-60).

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Art Unit: 1722

6. Claims 1-18 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of U.S. Patent No. 6,719,552 in view of Konzal (5,324,249).

Patent' 552 discloses a heating system for a lip rolling machine comprising most of the claimed features. However, Patent's 552 fails to disclose that the heat source is connected to an air source for supplying air to form a heated air stream.

Konzal discloses a heater for a cup curling machine, comprising an heater assembly (254) including a heater tube (328) having a plurality of heaters (162) that connected to a plurality of air passages (336) for producing heated air stream to heat the forming material.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the applicant's invention was made to modify claims 1-20 of Patent '552 by providing an air source as taught by Konzal in order to supply air to the heating assembly.
